

Advanced Emergency Medical Technician

States in which the determination is “approval through reciprocity” are members of the United States Emergency Medical Services Compact. Through this compact, EMS clinicians with a valid, unrestricted EMS license are granted “privilege to practice” across all participating compact states. In order to be granted this privilege to practice, practitioners must have a current, unrestricted AEMT license issued by an EMS Compact member state, be at least 18 years of age, practice under the supervision of a physician medical director and be affiliated with an EMS agency authorized in the Remote State. If an EMS practitioner satisfies all criteria for “Privilege to Practice,” the Compact requires all participating states to recognize the privilege for qualified purposes.

Prior to enrolling in any program at Dyersburg State Community College, prospective students living and/or working outside of Tennessee should confirm with the appropriate licensing or certifying agency whether successful completion of the program will meet the credentialing requirement of the state in which they intend to see employment. Students should carefully review the specific academic requirements for their chosen program, as well as any prequalification requirements for licensure. Please be advised that state laws, regulations and policies may change at any time and these changes could impact the program’s ability to meet educational requirements for licensure or certification.
